Information about vaccination, tests and protective measures:

The current COVID-19 / coronavirus regulations:

Mask mandate

The wearing of an FFP2-mask is only mandatory in healthcare and care facilities, care homes and homes for the elderly, in medical practices and when travelling on public transport.

In restaurants, cafés, bars businesses and shops, or generally in workplaces and institutions, a mask mandate may be enforced within the context of the owner's or proprietor's domiciliary rights.

Carrying on the battle against the coronavirus together:

Even though the mask mandate is no longer in force in many places, please protect the vulnerable in particular by maintaining an appropriate distance and voluntarily wearing a mask that covers your nose and mouth in places where a suitable distance cannot be maintained.

Mandatory testing

Entry only permitted with proof of a negative test result in:
Healthcare and care facilities, care homes and homes for the elderly, day nurseries and kindergartens and prisons.

In restaurants, cafés and bars, at events, or generally in workplaces and institutions, proof of negative testing and/or the enforcement of the 3G and 2G rulings may be demanded within the context of the owner's or proprietor's domiciliary rights.

Carrying on the battle against the coronavirus together:

A test provides certainty – also where it's not mandatory. Even if you are unaware that you have been infected with the virus, you can still transmit it and put other people at risk. You can also prevent this happening by regular testing.

Please take advantage of our testing offers to get tested before and after spending time with groups of other people.

Persons entering or returning to Germany

The 3G rule (3G = VRT - Vaccinated-Recovered-Tested) applies for persons entering or returning to

All travellers must be vaccinated, have recovered from a coronavirus infection or have been tested ne

Please note: Children under the age of twelve do not need to provide any form of proof whatsoever. The necessity of further measures (if necessary, quarantine) will be determined only after entering Germany after travelling in a high-risk area or a region infected by an outbreak of a new variant of the virus.
